

Here are some key points from our licensing terms that deserve your attention:

You're welcome to use our products in your personal and commercial projects, but please note that resale and distribution of the final product or source files are not allowed under our license. Specifically:

- Avoid attaching our graphic resources to resalable web applications or software programs.
- Refrain from distributing our works or sharing links to source files.
- Don't try to replicate the functioning principles of our products.

Examples of prohibited use include:

- Creating a pattern generator based on our patterns or mesh gradients.
- Modifying illustrations and reselling them.
- Using our designs to generate code and selling it as your own product.
- Offering your template or framework theme with our mockup or illustration source files as a bonus gift.

When you purchase a resource ("item" or "file"), you're granted a license for specific uses under certain conditions, but ownership remains with Lstore. It's important to comply with our license terms.

We may use images and names of third-party products, but the intellectual property rights belong to their respective owners. We are not affiliated with or endorsed by these owners.

By accessing these assets, you agree to obtain all necessary permissions from the underlying rights holders and adhere to any applicable brand use guidelines. We disclaim all express or implied warranties regarding these assets, including non-infringement of intellectual property rights.

Rights:

You have the right to use our resources royalty-free for your personal and commercial projects, including modification to suit your needs.

Lstore will not be held responsible for any outcomes resulting from the usage of our resources.

We reserve the right to change prices and revise the resources usage policy at any time.

Prohibitions:

You're not permitted to redistribute, resell, lease, license, sublicense, or offer the downloaded file to any third party.

Avoid attaching our graphic resources to resalable web applications or software programs, as this would be considered distribution and is prohibited by our license.
